

Bio – Armano – 2023

Armano is a genuine storyteller with whiskey on his breath and the road on his mind. The man is a barfly and when he was forced to stay away from his natural habitat in 2020, the bandleader of Oporto and The See See Riders would sit down, imagine a live audience in a smokey honky tonk and sing his songs into a microphone plugged into a tape machine. The outcome of these recording sessions are thirteen songs released on the two EPs "5 Miles Down The Dirt Road" (2021) and "When The Clock Strikes 4" (2022). Highly influenced by early Blues and American Roots Music Armano's songs stand in the tradition of people like Frank Stokes, Charley Patton and Junior Kimbrough and take you to forgotten places you didn't even know you had missed!
